THE LEAK

Users don’t leave loudly

They leave the instant they stop believing you

Every product loses revenue in a moment too quiet to notice…
until the numbers explain it for you, three months too late.

01 Unclear value

They can’t tell what you do before they decide you’re not worth the effort of finding out.

02 Premature risk

You ask them to commit before you’ve earned the right to ask.

03 Fragile momentum

One slow load, one confusing click - and the exit is one tab away.

Hesitation doesn’t show up on a dashboard. It shows up three months later, as a number you can’t explain.

Forces that made confusion unaffordable

The market didn't get harder. It got faster, more crowded, and far less patient with anything unclear.

01

Acquisition costs more

Every visitor you fail to convert still has to be paid for twice. Once to win them. Once to win them back.

02

Alternatives multiply

Your buyer has four other tabs open right now. None of them are loading slowly.

03

Judgment is instant

People decide whether to trust you before they've read a single line of your copy.

None of this is an opinion. It's the new cost of doing business with an unclear product - paid whether you notice or not.

WHY NOW - (PART 2 OF 2)

Run the math, and confusion is the most expensive line item you don’t track

A two-point lift in conversion sounds modest - until you price what it’s actually worth, and what its absence has already cost you.

THE OLD MATH

A vague product story costs you time. The deal closes eventually — just slower.

THE NEW MATH

A vague product story loses the deal — instantly, to whoever explained it better.

- A slow page doesn’t cost you speed. It costs you the buyer.
- A confusing onboarding doesn’t cost you patience. It costs you the account.
- An unclear homepage doesn’t cost you polish. It costs you the pipeline.

This is why the work can’t just look right anymore. It has to perform — and prove that it did.

WHAT WE DO

We engineer the moment a stranger decides to trust you

Hyperiux sits between strategy, interface design, engineering and measurement - one team owns the decision and the delivery.

ONE-SENTENCE POSITIONING

We turn websites, products and platforms into experiences people choose — and businesses can prove.

> Not brand-only. Not UX-only. Not dev-only.
> Not a department — the whole decision.

Behaviour

We research why users hesitate before we design anything.

Interface

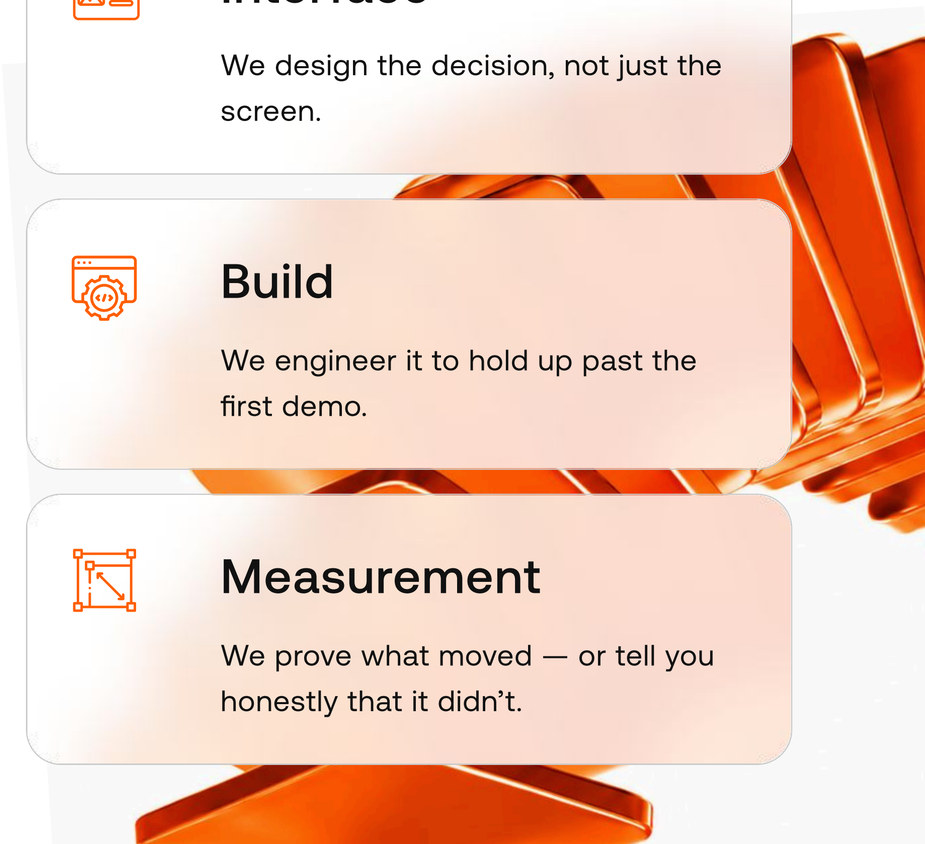
We design the decision, not just the screen.

Build

We engineer it to hold up past the first demo.

Measurement

We prove what moved — or tell you honestly that it didn’t.



WHERE WE FIT

We do our sharpest work where trust is the product

The right fit isn't a sector. It's a situation: real traffic, real complexity, and a decision that moves revenue.

SaaS

Where usability decides whether a trial becomes a customer.

Fintech

Where one moment of doubt is the difference between funded and abandoned.

AI & Data

Where the product is brilliant and the homepage doesn't say so.

STRONG FIT WHEN...

- Your site looks polished but doesn't convert enough traffic into action.
- Your product is powerful but users don't reach value fast enough.
- Your team wants evidence before funding a full redesign.

The experience looks good. It just doesn't convert, activate, or reassure like it should - that's the one problem we solve.

HOW WE THINK

Every screen has exactly three jobs. Most fail at one without anyone noticing

Clarity, trust and momentum - miss one and the other two stop mattering.

01

Clarity

If they can’t tell what you do in five seconds, they assume you don’t do it well.

02

Trust

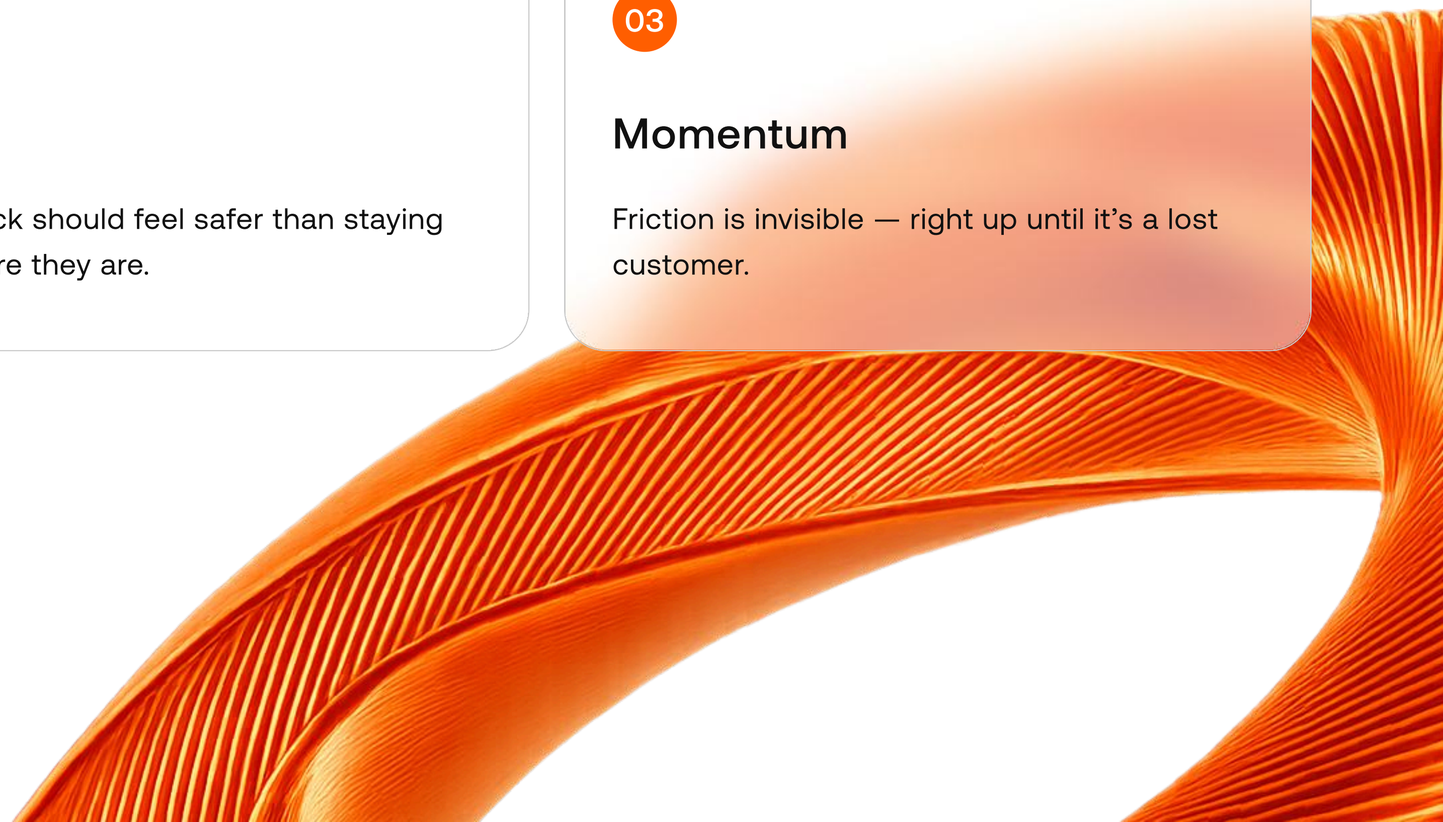
The next click should feel safer than staying exactly where they are.

03

Momentum

Friction is invisible — right up until it’s a lost customer.

A beautiful screen with one of these missing isn’t a design. It’s a leak with good lighting.



DIAGNOSIS BEFORE REDESIGN

Before we redesign anything, we find out what's actually broken

Taste is a guess. Diagnosis is evidence. We start with the second one.

LEAK TYPE	WHAT IT LOOKS LIKE	WHAT WE DO ABOUT IT
Message Leak	The value is buried under cleverness.	Rebuild the hierarchy around what they came for.
Performance Leak	The path to "yes" has too many forks.	Cut the steps that exist for your org chart, not theirs.
Trust Leak	You're asking before you've earned it.	Add the proof and control that makes the ask feel safe.
Interface Leak	The layout fights the eye.	Rebuild hierarchy so attention lands where intent follows.
Performance Leak	Speed quietly taxes confidence.	Fix what's slow before you redesign what's visible.
Measurement Leak	You can't see what's working.	Instrument the moments that actually move revenue.

Not a list of opinions. A ranked view of what to fix first — and what it's costing you to leave it.

METHOD

One loop, five steps, zero guesswork

Behaviour in. Performance out. Every step earns the next.

01

Diagnose

Find exactly where users hesitate, stall or leave.

02

Architect

Turn the diagnosis into a journey, not a wishlist.

03

Design

Build the interface that makes the next step obvious.

04

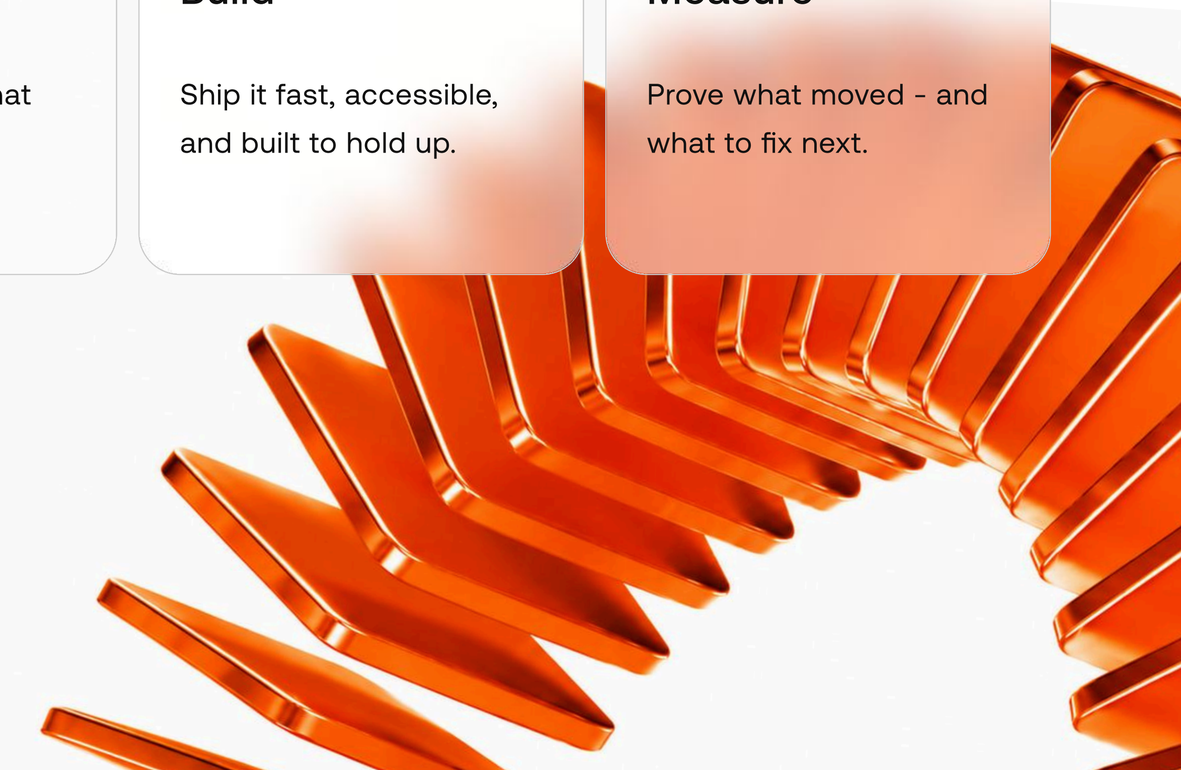
Build

Ship it fast, accessible, and built to hold up.

05

Measure

Prove what moved - and what to fix next.



Diagnose first. Design second.

Build properly. Measure forever.

SERVICES

Four disciplines. One decision, engineered end to end

Hire one pillar or all four - every engagement is run by the same team, against the same standard.

STRATEGY

Know what to build before you build it.

- Website Strategy
- Product Discovery
- CX Audit

DESIGN

Make the decision feel obvious.

- UI/UX Design
- UX Audit & Research
- Design Systems
- SaaS & AI UX Design

DEVELOPMENT

Ship it fast, clean, and built to hold up.

- Front-End Development
- Website Development
- Webflow & WordPress

MARKETING

Earn the traffic the experience deserves.

- SEO & Content Strategy
- Conversion Rate Optimisation

Most agencies specialise in one pillar and partner out the rest. We built all four in-house so nothing gets lost in translation.

THE LEAK BEFORE THE LEAK

The best experience in the world can’t convert a visitor who never arrives

Everything before this assumes someone already found you. Most never do - because the leak started before the page even loaded.

01 SEO

Visibility

If you don't rank for the question they're asking, the best answer on the internet might as well not exist.

02 CONTENT

Authority

Buyers research in the dark before they ever talk to sales. The page you don't write, a competitor writes instead.

03 SMO

Presence

Buyers now judge credibility by your social proof before your homepage - a quiet profile reads as a quiet business.

Organic growth gets them to the door. Everything else in this deck is what happens once they're through it.
We build both halves, so the traffic you earn doesn't leak the moment it arrives.

Most agencies hand you off between the two. We don't because the user never experiences a handoff.

They experience one decision, start to finish.

WHO WE'VE WORKED WITH

Teams who decided clarity was worth engineering

CHALLENGE

A powerful mobile finance product needed users to feel confident enough to explore features, connect accounts and move real money.

STRATEGIC MOVE

Trust in fintech is built one screen at a time: can I understand this, control this, trust it with my money, and know what happens next?

WHAT CHANGED

Restructured onboarding, simplified dashboard hierarchy, and designed trust/control states around sign-up, visibility and transactions.

PATRONUM

- CHALLENGE

A feature-rich workspace platform needed dense, repeatable admin workflows to feel simpler, faster, and easier to teach.

- STRATEGIC MOVE

In productivity software, perceived simplicity is a feature. Every removed step compounds into less training and faster time-to-value.

- WHAT CHANGED

Mapped high-frequency workflows, removed unnecessary steps, restructured navigation, and built a scalable UI system for consistency.

DSW (DATA SCIENCE WIZARDS)

CHALLENGE

The product had real technical depth, but the website needed to make that value legible to commercial buyers before a sales call ever happened.

STRATEGIC MOVE

Complex products convert when the first screen answers three questions fast: what is this, who is it for, and why should I care now?

WHAT CHANGED

Rebuilt the site narrative, simplified the information architecture, and redirected the journey toward demo bookings and enquiries.

IN THEIR WORDS

The best proof doesn't come from us.

It comes from the people who trusted us with the work - use only with real names, roles and permission.

"Enigma made our Google Workspace workflows feel lighter and easier to explain without losing the power admin teams rely on."

Paul Lees
Founder & CEO, Bespin Labs / Patronum

"Enigma simplified the finance experience without making it feel smaller. Every screen felt more intentional, more usable and more trustworthy."

Nirdesh Malik
Founder & CEO, Montra

"Our website finally felt like us sharp, bright, strategic and not afraid to have a point of view."

Wael Bittar
Co-Founder & Communication Director, Yellow

"Enigma brought structure to a complex MedTech story and made our innovation feel clear, credible and globally relevant."

Vijay Kewalramani
Founder & Chairman, AMS

"Enigma helped us say the hard thing simply. Our AI platform finally became easier for enterprise buyers to understand before a demo."

Sandeep Khuperkar,
Founder & CEO, Data Science Wizards

"They made our growth story easier to navigate from performance and SEO to data, retail and retention, everything felt more connected."

Deepti Bhadauria
Partner & CEO, HiveMinds

Six clients, six different reasons to call us again.

WAYS TO START

Start where the revenue is leaking

Four packaged entry points - each one starts with evidence, never with a format we sell by default.

01

Experience Leakage Audit

1-2 WEEKS

For teams that know something is underperforming but need evidence first.

Friction map • priority findings • roadmap

02

Conversion Website Sprint

4-8 WEEKS

For teams turning traffic into demos, sign-ups and sales conversations.

Messaging • UX/UI • build • on page SEO foundation

03

Product Experience Sprint

6-12 WEEKS

For SaaS, fintech and app teams improving onboarding or core journeys.

Journey diagnosis • prototypes • UI system

04

Growth Experience Retainer

MONTHLY

For teams that need continuous UX, content, SEO and build momentum.

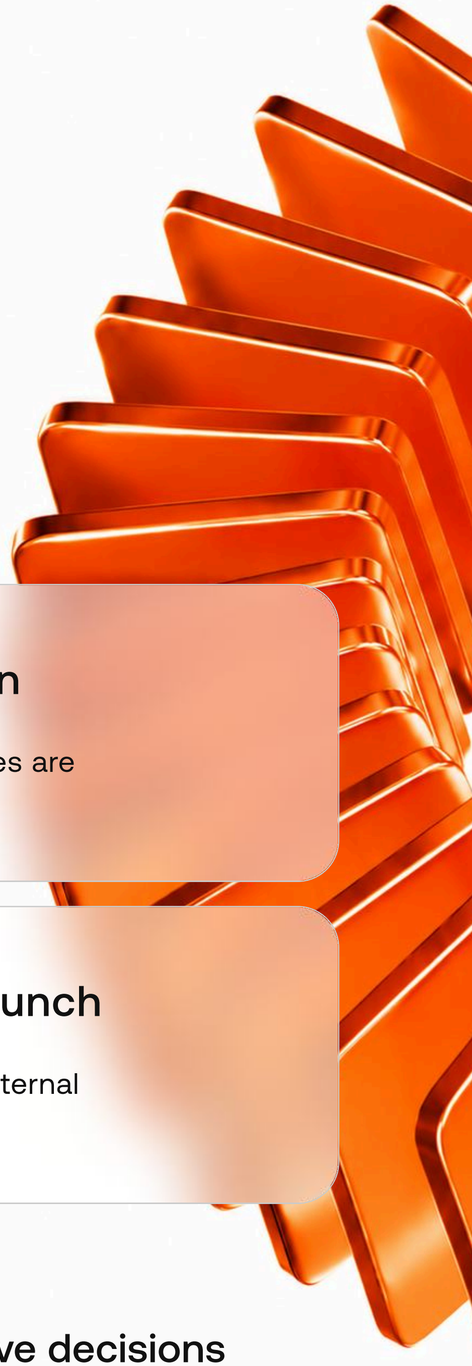
Backlog • content & SEO • experiments • analytics

Each engagement starts with the leak - never with a format we sell by default.

DELIVERY CONFIDENCE

Hiring an agency should remove risk. Most add a new kind

Hyperiux is built to keep judgment close to delivery, so the work is easier to govern - not harder.



01 Senior judgment stays close

The people shaping the strategy remain involved through design, build, launch and measurement.

02 Scope is clear before production

Priorities, deliverables, timelines and success measures are agreed before heavy execution begins.

03 Build is considered from day one

Design decisions account for responsiveness, accessibility, performance and engineering reality.

04 Measurement continues after launch

The work is judged by what users do next — not by internal approval alone.

RISK THIS ADDRESSES

Missed deadlines · unclear ROI · broken handoff · weak communication · poor build quality · subjective decisions

TEAM MODEL

The people who diagnose the leak are the people who fix it

Premium buyers don't only buy execution. They buy judgment, continuity, and accountability.

SYSTEMS PROOF

Anyone can show you a polished screen

We show the system underneath it.

Hyperiux Vault is the part of our work a prospect can verify - without taking our word for it.

Vault proves how we think:
in reusable systems, with developers in mind, for production rather than presentation.

- Reusable UI components
- Product interface patterns
- Responsive layouts and states
- Production-minded decisions
- Developer-facing documentation

FIT

We're built for one kind of problem.

We're honest about which one.

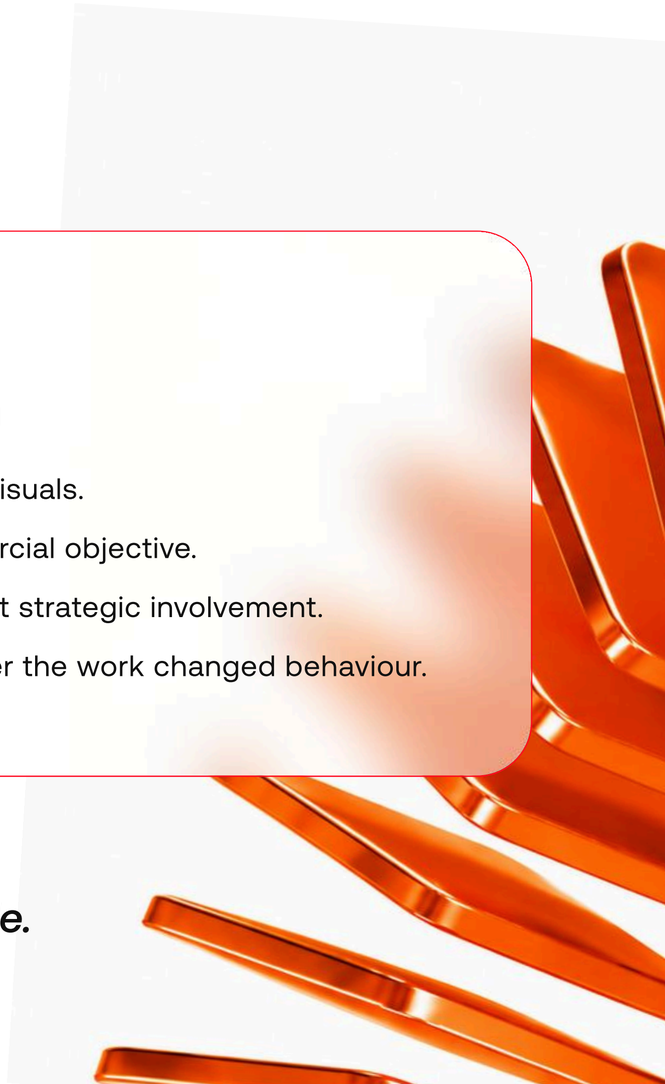
Good partnerships start with the right problem – not the right budget.

Strong fit when

- Your site looks polished but doesn't convert enough traffic.
- Your product is powerful but users don't reach value fast enough.
- Your buyers need more trust before they enquire.
- Your team needs specialist UX/UI or SEO support without adding headcount.

Not the right fit when

- You only need a logo or decorative visuals.
- You want a redesign with no commercial objective.
- You need low-cost execution without strategic involvement.
- You're not willing to measure whether the work changed behaviour.



The right fit starts with the leak - not the format of the deliverable.

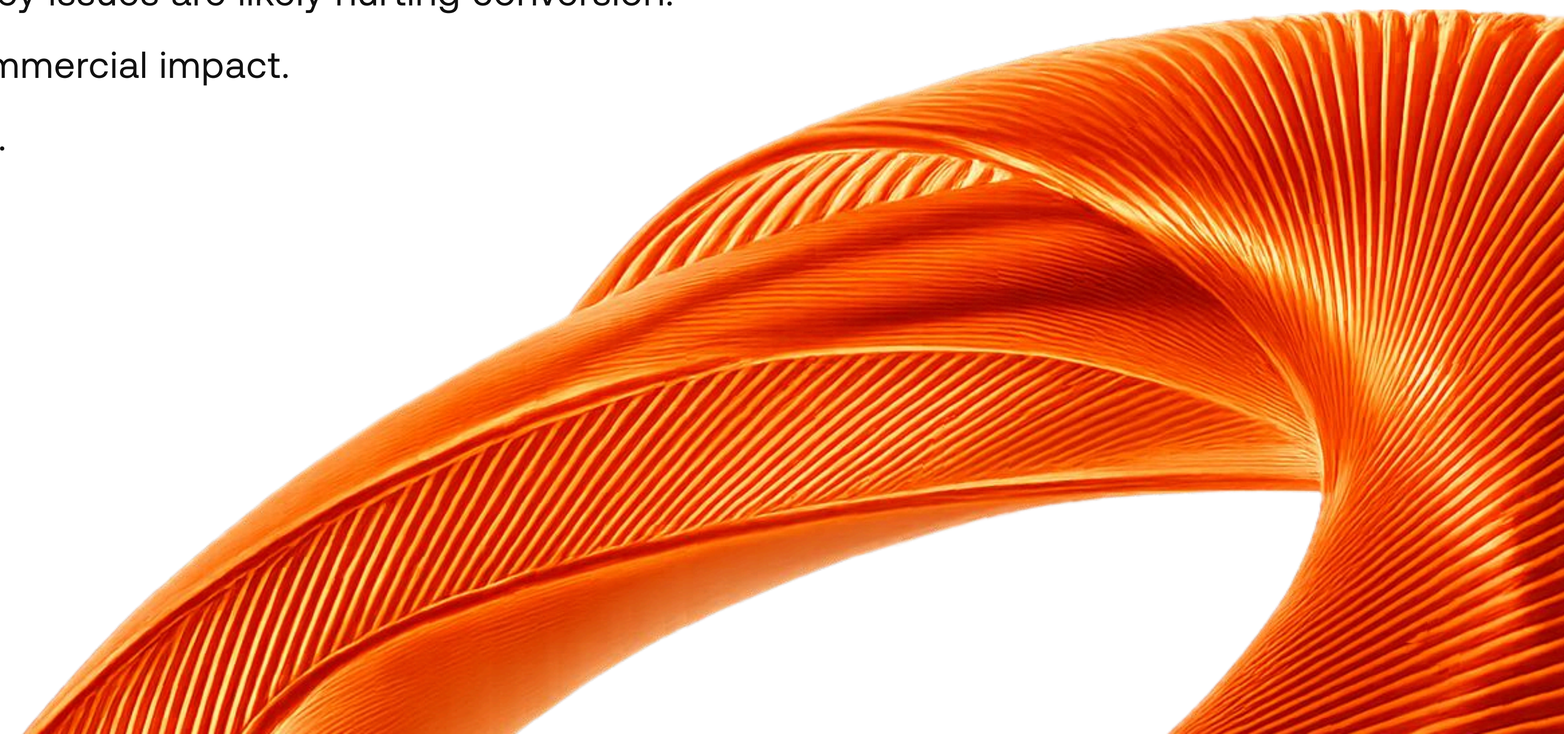
THE CHOICE

You can fund a redesign on a hunch.

Or find out what's actually broken first

Book a 30-minute Leak Review.

- Where users may be hesitating, dropping off or losing trust.
- Which UX, speed, content, message or journey issues are likely hurting conversion.
- What should be fixed first for the highest commercial impact.
- Whether Hyperiux is the right partner to help.



Your Users Deserve Better. So Does Your Business.

Because the future belongs to brands who obsess over experience.
